

Principal Consultant

- Steering Committee Member, Agile Testing Alliance
- Co-Author of a book on Selenium
- Certified Trainer Agile Testing - ATA, Qualified Project Management Professional (QPMP), Six Sigma Black Belt, ISTQB certified foundation and advanced level Tester, Sun Certified Java Programmer, Presenter in International conferences on Project Management, Quality and Testing
- 19+ years of IT Industry experience with:
 - Larsen & Toubro Infotech Ltd, India, NSE.IT (National Stock Exchange, India)
 - Celox Networks, USA, Netscout Systems, USA
 - BE CSE, MBA Finance from UMASS Lowell.

Aditya Garg

Aditya has been an automation test architect and principal consultant excelling in designing, strategizing and architecting manual and automation testing solutions. His primary focus has been in the area of establishing and leading testing center of excellence and practices, managing large IT projects, undertaking testing process studies using Six Sigma, CMMi and TMM models, proposing QA solutions, performance engineering and architecture reviews, designing automation frameworks, exploring open source test automation tools/frameworks and Business development

Aditya's current research area is use of pair wise testing in agile projects specially in optimizing test automation regression packs build around BDT with tools like Cucumber, Selenium and Capybara.