Professional Summary

---

I'm very good at logic-based programming. I've learned assembly language, java, python, php, node.js, JavaScript, C++ and little about C and C# in my whole career. I'm good at full stack development though I've developed several applications in python, java, android studio and C++ during my career as a student. I've keen interest in Information Security and 3D graphics design and have done some work in Unreal Engine 4 as an extra activity.
