Summary

I am Rashed, WordPress & WooCommerce Expert from Bangladesh. Building a website is my passion. I'm a chill and free-minded person. I love to do things I like. In my free time, I watch movies and play games, and spends time with my family. For my professional life customer satisfaction is my most priority. People do lots of things for that. But for me, I love to treat my customer like my friend. I am a good listener. I get direction from my clients and do as their directions. I can design an online shop, online course website for your business. You can contact me for developing your dream store.
