VISIONS & INTENTIONS

- I claim my purpose to facilitating the Creative Revolution that has been happening right now, since the last Scientific Revolution. It is showing up as who I am and how I am to bring my higher expression to whatever I engage in that truly seeks my guidance and appreciates my value, and that simply means I play my most natural roles of being the architect of potential, the leader of momentum and the master of my own energy as well as the others'.
- Being able to claim these roles because I am fully capable to guide people's use of energy towards efficiency and fulfil what truly matters to their own. I simply lead for the greater good, and it is what we have longed for as human: the peace and harmony in the Interconnectedness on Earth.

BACKGROUND

It is of my heartfelt thankfulness that you made it to this part of my profile. It does look strange to myself as it is the first time I present myself this way, but truest than ever, I write aligned to my sense of who I truly am, instead of crafting the persona in hope to fit into general institutional preference or a certain limiting role beyond my capabilities as I used to.

I would also like to share with you regarding the Creative Revolution we are navigating through at its most intense right now. The reason I am opening up to new possibilities, besides of the fact that I'm completely capable to fulfil what I am tasked with, is that most of us have been playing the roles in this established economic system that did not reflect the value of who we truly are, and yet our own Heart knows that we are to take up the right space not more than, nor less than what we deserve. In fact, there is no reason needed for us to step into our possibilities that seem untraceable from our past experiences. We are undergoing a mass re-alignment to form the right order that truly serves the greater and higher good. With that in mind, let's collaborate when our values match.
