01 PROFILE

Writing was never just a hobby for me. Instead it gave me a unique sense of euphoria and freedom, and came more natural to me than any other skill that I had practiced before. I personally feel that it's etched into my reasoning for my existence; to forge imaginary worlds for my wonderful readers to dive into and explore as if they were truly there themselves; in worlds we only dream about visiting. Meeting unique characters we only ponder of on a random day when questioned about the magic life has to offer. I believe that storytelling is one of the few things that, although threatened by Artificial Intelligence, can continue to keep the world beautiful and full of hope! It's the only place we can all feel the same when visiting - free.

02 EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

Mar 2026
Frankfort

Freelance Writer at Medium

- Create original short stories and narrative writing content for multiple online audiences
- Developed a unique writing voice recognized by publication editors and personal followers
- Published work recently featured and promoted by a Medium publication (Instagram mention, as well)
- Growing portfolio which includes (but is not limited to) emotional storytelling, content-consistency, and reader retention
- Can add subtle personality touch depending on niche preferences

03 EDUCATION

Jul 2012 — May 2016
Greenfield

McClain High School

High School Diploma

I graduated with a 3.06 GPA, and earned 21 credits. I passed my OGT tests the first time around. My scores are listed below

- Math - 409
- Reading - 435
- Science - 417
- Social Studies - 441

• Writing - 436

I didn't apply myself then as much as I wish to apply myself now. Because of that, I missed out on a lot of opportunities. Now, I'm here to redefine myself and show what talents and skills I have that can benefit the world and those around me.

05 EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Mar 2026

Ongoing Independent Study

Actively developing my skills through consistent publishing on Medium, along with portfolio work. Currently progressing my storytelling skill, constantly putting work in to redefine my narrative structure, and of course improving my digital writing skillset along the way.

What I Bring to Clients

I provide writing unlike all the rest, without using Artificial Intelligence to write for me, I create writing that not only sounds human - but is human. If you want readers to come back begging for more, then I'm the help you're looking for. I'm comfortable with remote work and can do articles, to essays, to ghostwriting novels.

Let me work hard, so you don't have to! Besides, it's not just a task to me, it's a passion!
