High School Student
Currently Studying

I am currently completing my high school education while developing my creative and digital skills.

Alongside my academic studies, I am learning and practicing graphic design, logo design, Canva, website design, and other digital design skills.

My education has helped me develop important qualities such as creativity, communication, problem-solving, organization, responsibility, and time management. I enjoy learning new skills and applying them through personal projects and creative work.

I am continuously working on improving my knowledge and abilities so I can grow as a digital designer and take on professional creative projects in the future.
